State Fire Marshal's 2002 Report of Accomplishments Now Available Online

Chief Ronal W. Serpas announced today that the 2002 Office of the State Fire Marshal Report of Accomplishments is now available for download and viewing on the Washington State Patrol Web page.

The report includes comprehensive, detailed information on programs and services provided by the Office of the State Fire Marshal in 2002; including fire and life safety inspections, plan review, firefighter training, emergency preparedness and response, data collection, fireworks and fire sprinkler contractor licensing, and public education.

To view the report, please visit our Web site at <http://www.wsp.wa.gov/fire/firemars.htm> and click on "2002 Report of Accomplishments" found on the left-side banner.

State Fire Marshal Mary Corso would like to thank the staff that made this report possible and states, "The men and women of the Office of the State Fire Marshal demonstrate their commitment to public safety each and every day through the quality, life-safety services they provide. This commitment will continue to aid in our efforts to decrease loss of life and property from fire and provide for a safer Washington."

The Office of the State Fire Marshal is a Bureau of the Washington State Patrol, providing fire and life safety services to the citizens of Washington State, including inspections of state-licensed facilities, plan review of fire protection systems and school construction projects, licensing of fire sprinkler contractors and pyrotechnic operators, training Washington State's firefighters, and collecting emergency response data. For additional information, you may visit our Web page at www.wsp.wa.gov and then click on "State Fire Marshal."

For more information on the services and programs offered through the Office of the State Fire Marshal, you may contact us directly at (360) 753-0400.
